

Official Desktop of Happy People

Do you fight an endless battle against spyware, worms and viruses?
Are you worried if your budget can stand the cost of the next software upgrade?
Do you have the feeling that your software vendor doesn't care about you?
You know, things like that don't make your everyday life better.

With the GNOME Desktop, your troubles are over.
It's secure, more virus-resistant, and its developers aren't trying to lock you into their product. You can choose from a wide variety of GNOME software vendors to get the support and features that suit your needs.

Welcome to GNOME - the Official Desktop of Happy People!
